3 More Forts Taken at Metz

By WILLIAM FRYE

LONDON, Nov. 15 (AP)—Three more of the vaunted forts guarding Metz fell today as the American Third Army offensive closed to within a mile and three-quarters of the citadel city from the south.

Fts. Hubert and Jussy, west of Metz, fell to the 95th Inf. Div. which reached a point two miles from the city. South of Thionville, Ft. Illange and its garrison surrendered.

South of Metz American troops which captured Forts L'Aisne and L'Yser met stiffening German resistance on the ridge beyond captured Pouilly. East of this point other Americans seized Peltre, 2½ miles southeast of Metz.

The German radio said Lt. Gen. Patton's troops had opened assaults on two more of the great Metz forts—Driant which the enemy successfuly defended two months ago, and Jeanne D'Arc.

Some 160 miles to the north British troops smashed across the Noord and Wessem canals, west of Roermond, and established a firm bridgehead. Flame-throwers and more than 400 heavy guns paced the assault.

Two German counterattacks were repulsed by the Americans southeast of Metz—one in the Peltre-Pouilly sector and another in the vicinity of Arriance, where units of the Sixth Armored Division are spearheading attacks beyond the Nied river.

Despite signs the Germans do not plan a suicide stand in Metz—resistance has been spotty along the entire front and the elaborate forts captured from the Germans have been stripped of their big guns—the Berlin radio announced the civilian population of Metz had been ordered evacuated.

North of Metz the Koenigsmacher-Thionville bridgehead over the Moselle was lengthened to 14 miles by Third Army troops and a front dispatch said there were signs of a general German withdrawal to the southeast in that area.

In the wheeling movement southeast of Metz the Fourth Armored Div. passed Guebling, 27 miles from the city, and the 26th pressed closer to Dieuze.

A German counterattack was broken up by troops driving on Metz from the south and another enemy counterattack was repulsed in the Sixth Armored Div. zone around Arriance, 15 miles southeast of Metz, 14 miles from the German border.

Immediately south of Metz, Americans who breached the ring of forts—finding them surprisingly unmanned and stripped of big guns—ran up against a hastily-emplaced line of German 88s on the Pouilly ridge.

On the right flank of the Third Army's huge attack, American infantry and armor advancing north of Chateau-Salins reached the area of Destrich and Baronweiler.

Fresh gains were scored also by Allied troops of the Sixth Army group in the Vosges mountains and foothills north of the Swiss border. Northeast of Baccarat they advanced approximately two miles against light resistance. East of Bruyeres, Granges-sur-Vologne and several pear-by villages were captured as the enemy was forced back more than a mile.

Farther south, despite snow and mud and extensive German minefields, limited advances were scored in the flooded valley of the Doubs river.

The Allied communiue reported weather "severely restricted air operations" in support of ground attacks.

FLIERS LASH BURMA ROAD, MANILA SHIPS

By Associated Press

American carrier planes swarming over Manilla bay blasted 14 ships of Japan's dwindling war and merchant fleets as land-based U. S. aircraft hammered Burma road strongholds today in a growing drive to reopen a vital supply line to China.

Yank ground forces, in a double flanking move, drew a barbed net around strong Jap forces that have been holding up the main American advance in the Philippines for a week.

(The Japanese Domei agency asserted more than 500 persons were killed or wounded in American aerial attacks on Manila in 48 hours. The statement said more than 300 bodies were counted by yesterday.)

Carrier planes, returning to the attack on Manila Monday, blew up two destroyers, damaged a cruiser, sank or set fire to 11 freighters and oilers and wrecked a floating dry dock.

Jap radios said 400 planes made this attack and 400 more sorties were flown over Cebu island next day. American aircraft, taking off from Rear Adm. Frederick C. Sherman's carriers, also strafed more than 130 enemy planes on the ground on three Luzon airfields.

Units of the 14th Air Force driven from their bases in southeast China steadily hammered Jap positions on the Salween sector of the Burma road. Chinese inflicted heavy casualties in beating back counterattacks near Mangshih.

American-trained Chinese clearing the Burma side of the road by-passed Bhamo. They have traveled 122 miles in a month against meager resistance and have 100 miles to go to the Burma road.

In a wide enveloping movement on Leyte island, the 24th Inf. and dismounted First Cav. began to close a pincers to cut off strong Jap forces around Limon.

Reds Close Net About Budapest

LONDON, Nov. 15 (AP)—The Red Army has liquidated the enemy bridgehead on the east bank of the Danube river south of Budapest, and has straightened its lines with advances south and northeast of the besieged Hungarian capital netting an additional 30 towns, Moscow announced today.

Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's troops, holding fast to their positions within easy medium artillery range of Budapest on the south, speared north and northwest from Monor, and captured Uri and Peteri in gains of three to five miles.

Seizure of Solt and Duna Egyhaza, 45 and 42 miles south of Budapest, erased the enemy bridgehead on the east bank of the Danube. The Berlin radio said the Russians hurled three infantry divisions against the Nazis, who withdrew to newly-prepared positions on the west bank.

The Russian war bulletin announced the capture of Nagykata, railway town 27 miles east of Budapest and 10 miles south of the rail junction of Jaszbereny. Moscow dispatches said yesterday hand-to-hand fighting was taking place in Jaszbereny.

Heves, 17 miles northeast of Jaszbereny, fell to the Russians, and the entire operation had the effect of straightening a curving line stretching 80 miles northeast from the vicinity of Budapest to positions south of the big railway junction of Miskolc.

The Soviet communique said the Red Army has taken 3600 prisoners in Hungary between Nov. 10 and 13, bringing the total since Nov. 8 to 7700.

A broadcast communique from Marshal Tito announced that his Yugoslav Partisans had captured Skoplje, important rail junction in Southern Yugoslavia and key to the Vardar Valley route through the Balkans.

The announcement said the Germans were pursued out of the town, and that 1700 were killed and 995 captured.

Nazis Drop Plan To Bomb America

LONDON, Nov. 15 (AP)—The Germans apparently have become convinced that time remaining in this war is too short to permit development of a rocket of sufficient size and power to reach America, a usually well informed source said last night. Experiments on the 20-tonners the Germans had hoped to perfect were abandoned.

The Germans made a heavy attack on southern England and London during the night with their first vengeance weapon, the flying bomb, and a number of deaths resulted.

Boston Food Halted By Truck Strike

A complete tieup of food shipments threatened Greater Boston today as the spreading "holiday" of truck drivers cut deeply into the transportation of foodstuffs throughout the Metropolitan area.

At the Boston Market Terminal, which supplies 90 per cent of civilians, hospitals and Army and Navy bases in Greater Boston, transport of food was delayed this morning by failure of other truck drivers to arrive on scheduled time.

Unrest was reported growing among other locals and terminal officials expressed fear they would join the striking members of Local 25, International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs, in the walkout.

Hospitals and similar institutions were warned to stock up immediately with as much food as possible because of the imminent danger of a shortage due to the crippling of food transportation facilities.

The estimated 4000 drivers, who voted to take a "holiday" Sunday in protest against refusal of their officials to hold an election, gathered at the South End municipal building today, awaiting the outcome of a conference being held by their leaders.

State officials, who failed all day yesterday in efforts to untangle the intraunion dispute, sat back awaiting developments. By order of Gov. Saltonstall, State Police and law enforcement officials of Greater Boston's 32 communities were on the alert to halt violence.

Most seriously affected by the severe crippling of food transport facilities were the large chain stores.

"It was very bad yesterday but it's much worse today," an official of one chain declared. "We're just about at zero now and it looks as though it'll be much worse before it gets better."

The chain groups, whose hundreds of stores throughout the area are supplied almost exclusively by trucks operated by mem-

Himmler Takes Over Hitler Job

(Compiled from News Dispatches)

Heinrich Himmler, chief of Gestapo and one of the coldest killers in the history of mankind, has taken over Hitler's leadership and sidetracked Goering, the man Hitler emphatically name to the German people in 1939 as Fuehrer-designate—if anything should happen to Hitler.

Informed sources in neutral governments having official contact with the Reich had placed this information in the hands of the British government today.

Reports persist that Hitler's mind collapsed, or that he is suffering from brain injuries caused by the bombing, or is sinking after a throat operation.

But Himmler's ascendancy and Goering's virtual dismissal from inner circles of the high Nazi council have led United Nations leaders to believe that, whatever happened to the Fuehrer, he has lost his hold and his wishes are no longer commands.

Goering, chief of the German air forces, builder of the once dreaded Luftwaffe, is also reported to be losing his mind, or on the border line between insanity and eccentricity.

Such reports do not emanate from wishful thinking on the part of United Nations strategists. They see in Himler's rise to power a prospect that Germany will fight to the last gasp. Goering, a military man and perhaps the least fanatic of the Nazi overlords, might have been emenable to surrender in the face of certain defeat.

Yet, now the man Hitler named as his heir apparent is reported to be exhibiting eccentricities far more obvious than were his wont. He remains silent on the affairs of state and delights in ordering more and more uniforms. He designs them, as well as robes. He parades up and down, admiring his medals, a delusion-of-grandeur indulgence wherein he seeks consolation for being shunted aside, think informed circles in London.

This is the peacock designated by the now powerless Hitler, in an address to his nation as the Nazi armies invaded Poland, as the man he wanted to take the helm if emergency arose. Hitler said:

"I am putting on the uniform and I shall take it off only in victory or death. If anything should happen to me in this struggle, then will come my first friend, Goering. In case anything happens to Goering, then next in line comes Minister Hess.

"You should be duty bound in them as you have been in me. In case anything occurs taking away Hess then the Senate should be called to appoint the most worthy of the people."

Hitler made no mention of Himmler, nor of Goebbels. Nor did he name Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop.

Nevertheless, and markedly in violation of his master plan for successions, Himmler now runs the show, with Goebbels and Von Ribbentrop as his left and right bowers.

While Goering has enjoyed wide popularity with the German people and Himmler has been dreaded for his ruthless Gestapo operations, the rotund and jovial air marshal came acropper with his boasts that enemy bombs never would fall on Reich soil. They fell. All of Goebbels' propaganda about the might of the German war machine, particularly the Luftwaffe, could not hide the fact that Goering had been talking through his hat.

As for Hitler, he is "unquestionably mad and probably is being kept under restraint," Kingsbury Smith reported in a copyrighted International News Service dispatch from London today.

Smith said this opinion had been expressed to him by Dr. William Brown, director of the Institute of Experimental Psychology at Oxford University, an adviser to the British government on Hitler's mentality.

Meanwhile, Himmler controls not only the Gestapo and the SS Elite Guard, but the Waffen SS, the Volks grenadiers, the Volksturm and the German Reserve Army. His chosen generals are sprinkled generously among regular German Arrmy leaders, appearing with increasing regularity on the Eastern Front.

Meanwhile, his censorship is doing its best to keep the truth from the German people and the world.

Christmas Date Moved Ahead For Dying 3-Year-Old Boy

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 15—For 3-year-old Forest Hoffman, this Sunday is going to be Christmas.

He's going to have a tree with all the trimmings. His stocking will hang by the fireplace, and Santa Claus will come and fill it with fruits and candies and toys.

And Forest—his parents call him "Nubbins"—is happy and excited about it, and he's dreaming of the big day, not realizing that it will be a "white lie" Christmas.

"You see," his father, Marshall F. Hoffman, explained sadly, "we had to move the celebration up, because the doctor says Nubbins won't be with us for Christmas."

His mother said Nubbins is suffering from what physicians have diagnosed as an incurable bladder ailment.

The afflicted lad has been asking frequently about St. Nick and his reindeer. His father managed after an unsuccessful search for a tree to get what will pass for a Yule tree—a branch from a large evergreen. Then Mrs. Hoffman told her son, "Christmas will be Sunday."

So this Saturday, when other youngsters are looking forward to Thanksgiving, for Nubbins it'll be the night before Christmas and "all through the house not a creature will be stirring, not even a mouse."

Shot Hits Home Of Councilor

A mystrious gunman today fired a shot at the home of Councilor Michael A. Sullivan in Surrey st., Cambridge, climaxing a long series of telephoned threats to the city official.

Sullivan reprted finding a bullet lodged in the wall of his home, six inches from the front door.

Chief Inspector Patrick Ready and Fingerprint Expert James Landrigan extricated the pellet and began tests to determine what type of weapon was used.

Sullivan told police neither he nor his family heard the shot.

The councilor, frequently involved in bitter municipal rows, said he had been threatened several times recently because of his persistent opposition to Plan E form of government.

"They told me if I didn't 'stop bothering Plan E, the plan will stop you.' They also said 'if you know what's good for you, you'll let Plan E alone.'"

Four Groups Map Battle For Fourth Term Plums

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (INS)—Four major administration factions are grooming their organizations today for a spectacular battle over power and patronage in President Roosevelt's fourth term.

The contest will involve cabinet posts, fat judicial jobs and finally Administration policies—all with a view to domination of the Democratic party either in 1948 or when Mr. Roosevelt departs from the national scene.

The factions are:

1—The Justice Felix Frankfurter group that has dominated most Administration policies and won the juiciest plums in the last half-dozen years. It includes Atty. Gen. Biddle, the Secretaries of War and Navy and sometimes Interior Secretary Ickes.

2—The Truman-Hannegan "big city boss" group, nominally headed by Vice President-elect Harry S. Truman but commanded by Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan. It includes Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, Boss Edward J. Flynn of New York, Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, other city leaders mostly in the East, and President Daniel J. Tobin of the Teamsters' Union.

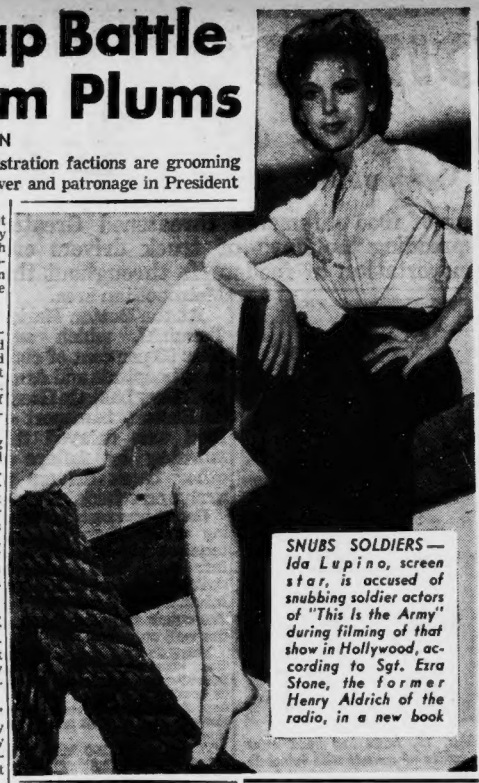
3—The Wallace-Hillman group, supported by the Earl Browder Communist following. It is nominally headed by Vice President Wallace but is directed by Sidney Hillman, head of the CIO's Political Action Committee.

4—The Democratic "Old Guard"—the Hull-Jones-Byrnes-Crowley group—supported generally by southern Democrats and conservatives from the North and West in both House and Senate.

Aside from these groups is Harry L. Hopkins, the President's most intimate adviser. Originally a Frankfurter man, at times he has shown independence.

The "Old Guard" has just won the first round, with the President announcing that James F. Byrnes would remain as war mobilization director or "assistant president" until Germany is defeated.

WISHFUL—Mrs. Mark Clark, wife of the commander of the U. S. Fifth Army in Italy, wishes she was a dancer, even a "honky-tonk" one, so that she could get to Italy to join her fighting husband. Gen. Clark frowns on the idea because "the men can't have their wives, so why should the general?"



SNUBS SOLDIERS—Ida Lupino, screen star, is accused of snubbing soldier actors of "This Is the Army" during filming of that show in Hollywood, according to Sgt. Ezra Stone, the former Henry Aldrich of the radio, in a new book

Kelly Recount Petition Filed

In what was interpreted as a preparedness move in the event that official returns show former Lt. Gov. Francis E. Kelly victor over Clarence A. Barnes, the Republican City Committee today filed a petition for recount of the Boston votes for attorney general.

Barnes now leads by approximately 9000 votes, in tabulation of unofficial returns. So far, no signatures have been filed with the Boston Election Commission in behalf of the Democratic candidate. Barnes' petition contained 84 names. Friday is the deadline for submitting such signatures to the election officials for certification.

In Fall River, two policewomen have been assigned to guard that city's 46,731 ballots, pending decision on the vote recount.

Meteors Play Tag In Sky Tonight

There may be a few balls of fire in the sky tonight, but if you remember your astronomy you will recall they are nothing more than the Leonid meteors.

The best time to see them will be from 2 a. m. tomorrow until the dark pales, the United States Naval Observatory at Washington announced today. The earth will be in the path of the meteors in such a manner that the main part of the display will come after midnight.

With this in mind it will not be necessary to call Liberty 4000 with mistaken reports of V-2 rocket bombs.

State Postwar Bonus Gets O. K.

Nearly 500,000 servicemen and women of Massachusetts will be paid a cash bonus if a proposal of the Massachusetts Postwar Rehabilitation Commission is approved by the legislature.

The bonus will be recommended to the legislature at its forthcoming session as a result of a majority vote of the commission following a meeting at the State House.

The amount to be paid was not specified in the proposal, but Democratic members of the commission previously have gone on record as favoring a $300 payment. The Republican majority of the commission refused to state how much they believed should be paid to each returning veteran.

The commission, studying the postwar plans since authorized to conduct the survey by the last legislature, held a private meeting yesterday and at the meeting voted to appoint sub-committees to draw up sections of the report so that it may be filed with the clerk of the house as soon as possible.

9 Saved in Woburn Infirmary Fire

Nine elderly inmates of the Woburn city infirmary were assisted to safety today as a two-alarm fire swept through a three-story rear ell of the building, causing damage estimated at $5000.

Infirmary Master Thomas Curran said the fire apparently was caused by matches with which the four-year-old son of a maid at the institution was playing.

Rip Van Truman

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (AP)—Sen. Harry S. Truman is one politician who doesn't care if he gets caught napping during the next few weeks.

The next vice-president is planning to get out of the capital this week to catch up on sleep lost during the campaign.

"Every time I wake up, I intend to turn over and take another nap," the genial Missourian confided to a reporter.

And when he returns, he said, he intends to "keep quiet" until after the inauguration.

The lending agency appraises the property and the application is returned to the Vets' Administration for approval and certificate of eligibility.

Applications for loans for purchase of farms or business are not yet available, Blake said.

In contrast to the smooth workings of the school program for veterans, complaints have been received by the American Legion and congressional committees of delays in the handling of loans for servicemen provide for in the G I bill.

Legionnaires said they were "far from satisfied" with the veterans' administration "red tape." They said delays are reported from all parts of the nation.

Rep. Kearney, New York, has called a conference of congressional leaders and Legion heads for next week to seek means of expediting the loan phase of the G I program.

Dealers Blame Women Hoarders For Cigarette Shortage in Hub

By ALICE BISSELL

Women are Boston's worst hoarders of cigarettes.

This is the consensus of downtown tobacco dealers, gathered in a survey which covered every type of sales outlet—drug stores, restaurants and cafes where smokes are dispensed only from automatic slot machines; news stands, hotels, department and cigar stores; cafeterias, and even small variety and fruit shops hidden in side street obscurity.

And when they can't get the popular brands they want, smoke gets in the eyes of these women weed-hunters, who in recent weeks have become famous on a circuit which covers South Station, Summer st., Federal st., and the busy shopping and theatrical district.

"The shortage is no myth," said David Nagle, clerk at a Summer st. store which caters to 1000 cigarette customers a day. "If people wouldn't hoard, however, and would stop complaining, we'd all have enough."

But they do hoard, especially the ladies.

Every store and shop you go into, it's the same complaint. The Women!

"From shop to shop they go," one clerk said, "tucking a pack in their pocketbook whenever they spy their favorite brand.

But the women have another side of the story to tell.

Some bosses and most all husbands leave it to the women to scour the city for a favorite smoke.

On the other hand, at a tobacco store at Federal and High sts., three business tycoons were in conference about a certain brand. They were gathering in packs, the tycoons.

"Come on, men," said one, "I know a spot on State st.," and the rovers marched off in disgust because there were only 10 little-known brands on sale at that particular shop.

At South Station the crowds are the worst. They wait for cigarettes with the hungry, forlorn look of those in breadlines.

Some tell a clerk there, who has 5000 customers a day and whose supply of one popular brand has been cut from two million a month to 430,000, that they'll be daredevils and try a new brand.

"But most of them act like martyrs," said the clerk. "Lots of women put on a sad act and say they want a popular brand for their service man. I've had them say this and light up as they leave.

Part of the panic is caused, some say, by stores in the country where you have to buy toothpaste to get a pack, and where it is reported the store-keepers are opening packs to divvy up the cigarettes.

Tobacco Man Blames WMC in Cig Shortage

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (AP)—Bernard Kirsch, president of the Metropolitan Tobacco Co. and the New Jersey Tobacco Co., said the Department of Agriculture and the War Manpower Commission were "chiefly to blame" for the national cigarette shortage.

Kirsch said the Department of Agriculture should permit increased planting to "take care of three hundred billion cigarettes a year," and that the War Manpower Commission should "unfreeze" the "labor situation" in tobacco-producing areas.

Cigarettes Bring 41 Cts. A Pack at Auction

CHICAGO, Nov. 15 (AP)—A chain drug store bought 218½ cartons of "name brand" cigarettes for $903 at a postoffice auction and arranged to deliver the precious packages to a Loop store on an armored truck.

The smokes, purchased for an average of 41 cents a pack, will be resold to the public at Illinois' ceiling price of 18 cents. Twenty cartons will be donated to Edward Hiffs, Jr., Memorial Hospital for Veterans.

Barking Dog Saves Five

Five persons, including a year-old infant, were probably saved from being overcome by carbon monoxide fumes by the barking of a pet dog today when fire broke out in the basement of a duplex house in Charles st, Auburndale.

John A. Williams, who lives on the first floor, was aroused by his Irish setter "Cindy" and found the apartment filled with smoke. He awakened his wife, Alice, who took their baby Geoffrey and fled to the street.

Williams, after discovering the cellar to be filled with flame and smoke, awakened Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sadler, Jr., occupants of the second floor, who made their way safely to the street.

Fire officials said the blaze, which started from spontaneous combustion in the cellar and worked up to the first floor resulting in $1000 damage, would have filled the house with carbon monoxide fumes in about five minutes.

U. S. Prison Relief Ship Reaches Japan

By the Associated Press

Arrival of a relief ship for Allied prisoners of war was reported by the Japanese last night. A radio Tokyo broadcast said the Jap vessel, Hakusan Maru, which loaded 2000 tons of supplies for Allied prisoners at Nakhodka, Siberia, had arrived in Kobe.

Sadao Iguchi, spokesman for the Jap board of information, was quoted as saying the relief goods would be delivered to the "American internees in Japan, China and the southern regions as soon as possible."

500 Vets to Get Free Training In 200 Bay State Schools

Accredited Massachusetts schools are providing free education to more than 500 World War II veterans under the provisions of the GI Bill of Rights, and a total of 1000 are expected to be enrolled by Dec. 1, it was announced today.

Those now studying are enrolled in 40 schools which have been approved by the Veterans' Administration, and another 160 schols were recently accepted as suitable for veterans to attend.

Veterans' Administration officials warned that applications for educational assistance must be made only to schools on the approved list.

Upon approval of the veteran's application, he is enrolled, and payment of tuition is made directly to the institution.

Should the veteran-student have dependents, he should file an allotment claim which is forwarded to the school. The head of the institution makes a statement that the applicant is enrolled and attending classes.

This statement should be returned promptly to the Veterans' Bureau so that dependency payments may begin the first of the following month. Even though they are delayed through failure to return the form promptly, the first allotment will be paid on a retroactive basis.

Veterans' Administration officials declared the veteran is not entitled to benefits should he enroll "on his own" in a school not on the approved list. This policy provides a safeguard against "fly-by-night diploma mills" which might be set up merely to capitalize on the GI Bill, they stated.

Solon Fights Return Of Japs to Coast

By RAY RICHARDS
Boston Evening American, Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—Rep. Bertrand W. Gearhart (R.) of California, said today he would address a letter to the War Relocation Authority as the start of an investigation to determine the full scope of the authority's propaganda efforts toward return of the evacuated Japanese population to the West Coast.

Gearhart said his inquiry is prompted by well substantiated reports that the WRA is using a large part of its current grant of funds to employ high-salaried public relations men on the West Coast to "soften" opinion there against a wholesale return of the Japanese.

"The War Relocation Authority is in a spot," Gearhart said. "It has settled 30,000 or 40,000 evacuated Japanese in many interior and eastern seaboard states under positive promise to those states that the newcomers will be returned to the West Coast as soon as the war emergency passes.

"These states are now claiming the war emergency has passed, and are increasing their demand for the removal of the Japanese.

"They overlook the peril that was uppermost in the minds of the military commanders when the evacuation was ordered—that of espionage."

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15—James K. Yamamota, Japanese-American strawberry farmer who leased his six acre farm near San Jose when he was evacuated early in 1942, today ordered his farm vacated immediately pending his arrival early next week.

Yamamota issued the order through the Nucleus Building and Loan Ass'n, custodian of his Cupertino district farm, without announcing who had authorized his release from a War Relocation Authority center at North Ogden, Utah.

War Seen Opening Way to Communism

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND
Dean of American War Correspondents

LISBON, Portugal, Nov. 15—America is sleep walking! The greater part of the American people have but a vicarious and hazy conception of the grim and bitter realities of war or the dark dangers in the wake of this terrible struggle.

The Americans believe we are carrying western democracy into Europe and Asia. It is a sad illusion. Others are using our word "democracy" as a cloak for their own purpose, aims and goals.

What is actually happening is that Russian Communism from the East—and that communism is not DEMOCRACY—is sweeping steadily but surely westward over the continent of Europe, infiltrating like an irresistible tide in some parts, creeping like columns of termite ants on the march in other parts.

The Atlantic, even the 22-mile English Channel, stopped Adolf Hitler. The Atlantic, broad as it is, will not, halt what is on the march from the East.

Lisbon is one of the three most sensitive neutral "political seismographs" in Europe. The other two are Madrid and Berne, Switzerland.

Of "the red danger," fear, anxiety and deep concern, is increasingly registered at all three places.

More silently but also more strongly, are the vibrations and repercussions of the continent felt here where Europe ends.

Madrid and Lisbon are in that respect of particular importance and significance because through them run the racial, cultural and political contacts with Mexico, Central and South America.

With ten wars and several revolutions in different parts of the world and more than 30 years of foreign service among my experiences in my record, I am looking at things and observing the titanic human tragedy with the detachment and understanding that comes with 70 years of age and unique experience.

Several months ago I wrote that the post-war world would be strongly "leftist," but not necessarily "democratic" in our sense of that term.

What is being realized more in Europe, but scarcely yet grasped by the American people, is that by some strange twist or irony of tragic history, World War II for "world democracy" has become the path-maker and the pace-maker for Moscow's world revolution through the incredible death, destruction, devastation and the terrible misery and suffering it has brought to the broad masses in Europe and in China and Japan.

In Europe the middle classes are being systematically destroyed if not completely annihilated. All Europe is being made proletarian. Where the war has not and is not doing it, the Communist movement underground and above ground, has that aim.

As we have seen in Poland, so in France, Italy, Germany, Belgium, and elsewhere, the underground "armies" organized, financed and directed from England and America, are splitting or wholly turning to Soviet Russia and its political and economic and social systems and civilization.

Upton Close Fights Radio Ban He Blames on Reds

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 15 (INS)—News Commentator Upton Close prepare dtoday to fight what he described as the efforts of certain radical and Communistic elemente to stop the Sunday afternoon radio broadcasts he has been making for more than two years.

Close said in an interview that the National Broadcasting Co. had notified his radio sponsor, the Shaeffer Pen Co., it no longer would sell the pen company time on the air unless Close were dropped. He declined to say what action he would take, but declared he was ready to "see this thing through."

Close said opposition to his broadcasts arose because he frequently had discussed "the danger of Communism."

Close said his contract was with NBC and the network had agreed to sell his services to the pen company which has sponsored his Sunday programs for 27 months.

Close said his program had a top Sunday rating with an audience of about 9,000,000 listeners and that NBC had so advertised it. He declared, also, his contract had been renewed for 52 weeks only two weeks ago, with a raise in pay.

bers of the striking local, were forced to bid for contract carriers on a first-come, first-served basis and were fearful the spreading walkout would engulf even these drivers.

At the Boston Market Terminal President William F. Quinlan estimated that food transport was 25 per cent below normal.

Only a scattered few trucks arrived there at the normal loading hour early today and it was not until several hours later that other trucks arrived.

Drivers, who expressed sympathy with the walkout of the union members, said they had believed the terminal was closed and had not reported for work until informed otherwise hours later. They said they had seen ads in morning newspapers which led them to believe the terminal was not operating.

Referring to newspaper ads announcing suspension of 14 members of the union, a spokesman for the drivers declared this was a clear violation of the local and international constitutions, which require such notification by registered mail and an impartial hearing on the charges.

There were no pickets or any signs of strike activity at the terminal, but officials feared mounting unrest evidenced among other drivers would result in a complete shutdown in 24 hours.

Much perishable food in more than 100 refrigerator freight cars was kept sealed and jobbers were preparing to ship it to other cities in view of the threat of a tie-up of its movement to retailers.

Most of the smaller independent markets throughout the area were able to obtain food for the majority of them pick up their produce at the market in their own trucks, operated by employes.

The large chains were able to obtain deliveries until they could bid for the services of special contract carriers. They were able, however, to obtain bread, which is delivered to their stores by drivers who are not members of Local 25.

New Haven railroad officials also reported 40 truck drivers of the New England Transportation Co. had given notice they preferred not to drive in the Boston area during the truckmen's "holiday." Vice-President R. H. Palmer said the decision was "up to the men" and that some 25 trucks, which handle general merchandise and a small amount of food, would be tied up.

Market Terminal officials said all hospitals and institutions throughout the city were supplied with food today and were taking heed of the warning to stock up.

Boston police said they would offer protection to any trucks which sought to make pickups at the terminal.

State police said they were under orders only to safeguard trucks on state highways and that they would not come into Boston or any other city unless they received further, definite instructions.

Big Fund Rally At 7 Tonight

Everything was in readiness today for tonight's big Red Letter Rally at Boston Garden when nationally known stars of stage, screen and radio will entertain volunteer workers and friends of the Greater Boston United War Fund. The program starts at 7 p. m.

Featuring such celebrities as George Burns and Gracie Allen; Olsen and Johnson, musical comedy stars, and Arthur Fiedler, conducting a 65-piece Boston Symphony Orchestra, the entire program will be broadcast for stay-at-homes over Station WCOP. More than 14,000 are scheduled to attend.

Henry A. Laughlin, fund general chairman, will introduce Gov. Saltonstall and Charles Francis Adams, president of the Greater Boston Community Fund.

Highlights of the program will be a skit by George, Gracie and Radio Announcer Bill Goodwin, and Gracie's famed "Concerto for Index Finger," in which she will be accompanied by the orchestra.

On its way to its $7,650,000 goal, the fund total today stood at $5,110,000 and additional returns will be made tomorrow at the Sixth Dutch-Treat Report Luncheon at the Boston City Club.

While the rally is primarily for fund campaign workers, there will be a limited number of tickets available to the general public. Tickets may be obtained at 17 Court st.

The show will feature the Camp Myles Standish military band. Alvin Owsley, former minister to Rumania, Denmark and the Irish Free State, will head the list of speakers.

ALL NATURE PREPARES FOR WINTER — HOW ABOUT YOU?

For winter transportation, the SNOWSHOE RABBIT actually grows his own snowshoes in the form of long, stiff hairs on his feet that improve his "traction." And nature's camouflage also turns his extra warm winter coat white for protection.

THE SNOWSHOE RABBIT IS ALL SET FOR WINTER TRANSPORTATION

Lucky rabbit! He never has to worry about "stalling" in deep drifts . . . nor about freezing cold.

It's different with cars. Nature doesn't help them. In fact, time and hard use and the elements all work to harm both finish and functional parts. These things should be watched . . . checked regularly by someone who really knows.

Your Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer has a very real interest in keeping your car running at its best. He has tools to test and adjust it. He has genuine factory-engineered and inspected parts. His experienced mechanics know every detail of the car's operation.

A thorough looking over now may save you a lot of needless expense. Phone for an appointment now and get your dealer's advice on your car's needs this 4th War Winter.

Your Engine needs tuning for cold weather driving, for easy starting, to avoid stalling, and to compensate for low octane wartime gas. It needs lighter oil, too.

Your Electrical System Battery should be tested and recharged if necessary for cold weather starting. Also clean and tighten cable connections.

Your Cooling System needs flushing. All hose connections should be checked to prevent leaks. Replace hose if necessary. Add anti-freeze.

Your Braking System Adjust brakes so they function equally—for safety, and to save on tire wear. Reline if necessary. Check stop light operation.

Q—My husband made out all his government insurance to his mother. We have been married two years. When I wrote him about this matter he said that was the way he wanted it, which I think is quite unfair. As his wife, am I not given the right to claim such insurance if anything should happen to him, even though he failed to name me beneficiary? M. G. H., Boston.

A—Sorry, but only the beneficiary named by the serviceman can receive insurance payments, regardless of wife status. You cannot claim his insurance in the event of death, unless the beneficiary (mother in this case) dies before payments completed. If that should be the case, you as legal widow, would then be eligible for balance of payments. There is no rule compelling servicemen to name a defenite member of his family as beneficiary.

Q—I was honorably discharged from the Army Sept. 19, 1944. My wife applied for free maternity care last July and was accepted. The baby is expected the first week in December. Under the circumstances is she still eligible for free care? J. P., Boston.

A—If your wife's application was accepted she is still entitled to the free maternity care even though you have been discharged. If you desire any further information contact Division of Maternity and Child Welfare, 73 Tremont st., Boston.

Q—About 15 months ago I was discharged from the Army because of over-age and accepted a job in a war plant. Can I join the Merchant Marine now at the age of 41? J. S., Cambridge.

A—Under recent regulations by the War Manpower Commission you may change jobs without certification from that office, therefore you are eligible to apply for enlistment in the Merchant Marine.

Q—My son has been in the service for more than two years. Please inform me how and where I could apply for an allotment? R. H. E., Manchester, Mass.

A—Suggest that you contact either by a visit or writing . . . Personal Affairs Officer, First Service Command, 508 Commonwealth ave., Boston 15, Mass. They have the necessary applications.

Smart Set Vincent Club Luncheon

By BETTY ALDEN

NEWLY ELECTED MEMBERS of the exclusive Vincent Club came from colleges as far away as New York to attend the first fall luncheon at which they were honored by older members yesterday in the Junior League ballroom.

SALLY POTTER

Mary Bayles Ricketson was here on a "one day pass" from Barnard College. Daughter of Mrs. Bayles Ricketson, a Bostonian now residing in New Mexico, Mary is studying to become an expert in international relations.

Rachel Rock arranged her busy schedule which includes flying lessons, Red Cross and a secretarial course, to attend the luncheon with Gwen Fearing who is also studying shorthand and typing. Letitia Sargent and Margaret Thayer came in from classes at Radcliffe and Madeleine Wilson from Wellesley College.

Joan Kuebler, another new member, came from the Practical Art School where she is specializing in commercial art and wore a becoming dress and beanie of the popular new shade, romance rose. In gold wool with touches of brown Barbara Louise White of Salem was taking a few hours off from teaching at a nursery school in Marblehead, to hear a discussion of the annual Vincent revue—the cast of which traditionally comprises the newest members.

Jean Evatt, who has demonstrated her executive ability on several big charity committees in the past couple of years, was elected chairman of the new group and Virginia Barrett Brown vice-chairman. Other new members include Sally Potter, a student of homemaking at Garland; Barbara Mitchell, Pamela Whitney, who is busy decorating her new apartment before setting out to hunt for a job; Joan Metcalf, Phyllis DeFord, Nancy Motley, Mary Bartlett, Barbara Hale, Margaret Amory, Anna and Marie Prince, May Sedgwick, Diana Sullivan, Edith Cunningham, Jane Ellis, Joan Eliot, Jane Faulkner and Sabra Harwood.

* * *

Mrs. Sydney Harwood of Beacon st. is giving a small cocktail and dinner party the evening after Thanksgiving for her debutante granddaughter, Sabra Harwood, before the first of this season's Waltz Parties at the Copley Plaza. Sabra's guests will be Margaret Amory, Edith Cunningham, Alice Mumford and Betty Mills of Fall River, one of her classmates at Farmington and now at Garland. Their escorts will be William R. MacAusland, Jr., of Harvard Medical School, G. Hugh Lawrence, Jeffrey Fryeman, Lawrence Groves and Alvan Aldrich.

A short white ermine cape and coronet of gold leaves in her hair added a festive touch to the smart black dinner gown worn by Mrs William Cotting to attend the Theater Guild's opening of "Sing Out Sweet Land" at the Colonial with her doctor husband. Katharine Lane, the sculptress, and George Greener were a new twosome, sharing two-on-the-aisle and greeting North Shore neighbors during intermission.

How to Make a Splendid Cough Syrup at Home

A Big Saving, and It's So Easy! No Cooking!

Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of plain syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make at home. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking! No trouble at all. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of truly wonderful medicine for coughs due to colds. It makes a real saving for you, because it gives you about four times as much for your money. It lasts a long time, never spoils, and children love it.

This is actually a surprisingly effective, quick-acting cough medicine. Promptly, you feel it taking hold. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes and makes breathing easy. You've never seen anything better for prompt and pleasing results.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

NEW HOMES FOR VETERANS

THE National Housing Administration has announced that honorably discharged war veterans may go ahead anytime to build or buy homes under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

This is a wise and proper concession. No man is more entitled to the enjoyment of the American home than the one who risked his life at sea or on a battlefield to preserve that institution.

However, before any serviceman can acquire his new house he must obtain the financial assistance his grateful country has promised him.

He should not be strangled with bureaucratic red tape or humiliated by formidable restrictions imposed by governmental or private agencies.

The acquire-a-home provision of the Bill of Rights is very clear and definite.

All it needs is kind and sympathetic administration.

Meanwhile, Massachusetts and most other States should devise ways and means of making currently useless land available to veterans who want to settle in suburban and rural areas.

If this is done—and it most surely should be done—beautiful new communities will spring up in sections which have been neglected for generations, and the State as a whole will be healthier and happier.

WILL THE ARMY RUN THE UNION?

To our dismay, discomfort and danger we of Boston are witnessing something new in the way of strikes.

This is the strike of Local 25 of the Teamsters' Union, whose truck drivers, when they work, transport huge quantities of foodstuffs and war materials.

Many have stopped work NOT because of any controversy with their employers.

They have quit because of differences within their own union.

The strikers want a new election of union officials. They think the present officials have been in long enough and that they are trying to perpetuate themselves in office—even as Dan Tobin has done.

The present officials of the local refuse to hold an election.

When strikes against employers have halted industry to the detriment of the war effort the government has stepped in, and either the Army or the Navy has taken over until difficulties were adjusted.

Will the Army or Navy be ordered to operate Local 25 of Mr. Tobin's union until the members can adjust their difficulties?

LET'S NOT WAIT

MR. KENNETH W. JAVIS, Chicago engineer, recently predicted the development of a device which will automatically stop a moving automobile when an object looms before it.

We cannot imagine a more necessary invention for Massachusetts, where traffic accident deaths are increasingly and deplorably numerous.

Still, it wouuld be a tragic mistake for the Registry of Motor Vehicles and other law enforcement agencies to wait until automobiles stop of their own accord.

Better would be a mighty and general determination to remove incompetent drivers from the controls of all pleasure and commercial cars.

Oh, how or by what means may I contrive
To bring the hour that brings thee back more near?
How may I teach my drooping hope to live
Until that blessed time and thou art near?
I'll tell thee: for thy sake I will lay hold
Of all good aims, and consecrate to thee,
In worthy deeds, each moment that is told,
While thou, beloved one, art far from me.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15—Those old-style American Democrats and those "open-minded" citizens whose votes put over President Roosevelt for his fourth term learned in less than one week after the election one of the consequences of their decision.

Westbrook Pegler

They voted to Jimmy Petrillo and to all other professional unioneers of the Roosevelt following a Fascist power to collect a sales tax on our food, our clothing, on every article of commerce produced by workers who belong to unions, whether voluntarily or under Roosevelt's compulsion.

It is true that Tom Dewey had made no forthright declaration against this private taxing authority but those who voted for Roosevelt had no excuse for doubt.

He had repeatedly demonstrated and declared that he would confer this power on these private individuals, practically all of whom are members of his political following and most of whom dipped into union treasuries under their control or called on their subjects for special contributions to Roosevelt's campaign fund.

There will be some flippant and thoughtless individuals among the marginal group of voters who supplied Roosevelt with his plurality who will scoff away this and other presentations of an ominous development with taunts of "hard loser" and "poor sport."

That is a pity, of itself, because this was not a game or sporting contest but an issue of Fascism or the American way and they knowingly voted for Fascism or Hitlerism minus only the racial and religious oppression.

IT IS a pity, too, that some of those who fought hard, though not quite well enough, against Rooseveltism in the campaign, have indicated that they did not mean all that they said in the excitement of the contest and were indulging their emotions in that which Wendell L. Willkie, to his historic embarrassment and discredit, described as only "campaign oratory."

As one who meant every word of it in those days, I insist that the victory of Jimmy Petrillo, the president of the Musicians' Union, is just as subversive and dangerous as I said it would be, that Roosevelt planned it that way and that Petrillo now has won not only the power to tax the whole American people but also the power to censor our radio entertainment and to load the air with propaganda for the party to which he is politically committed and indebted, namely Roosevelt's.

To go as far back as we need to explain the case, Petrillo demanded from the big broadcasting and recording companies a royalty on "canned music" or records playable on the air, in the juke-boxes and in the homes. He said the money would be used to relieve the needs of musicians who would be done out of work by the repetition of their playing.

However, there is no law to compel him to distribute these royalties among members of his union whose work is abolished or curtailed by the repetition of "canned music" and there is no excuse to believe that he will put it to any such use. Already he has said he intends to build up the union's treasury to one hundred million dollars, all under the hands of himself and a few other unioneers of his council.

THURMAN ARNOLD, when he was an Assistant Attorney-General prosecuting anti-trust cases, in an unsuccessful action against Petrillo and his council on this same issue, swore in his court petition that the union's total membership was only 140,000 and that not more than half of them were full-time musicians. The rest are Saturday night, or occasional performers otherwise employed as clerks, barbers, school teachers or carpenters who joined the union only to obtain a license to earn a little extra money. His basic membership, thus, is only 70,000—a relatively small union.

By revising his contracts with the moving picture industry when the present agreement expires, as he intends to do, Petrillo will help himself to another sales tax on the consumers, meaning the movie patrons, and may raise his treasury to an immediate goal of $200,000,000.

Substituting for Louella O. Parsons, Who Is on Vacation

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 15—The life story of Admiral Richard Byrd is headed for the screen as an independent production by Maj. Polan Banks. Banks, soon to be retired to the Army's inactive list, is planning his picture immediately after the war when he can get the co-operation of Byrd, who is on Admiral King's staff.

Certainly Byrd's life should line up as a movie thriller. He is the only man alive who has stood over both Poles and he thrilled the world when he spent five months alone in an antarctic hut near the South Pole.

The deal also includes rights to Byrd's five best-selling books, including "Little America" and "Alone," which sold 1,000,000 copies. In a wire from Washington, Banks says, "Little is known about Adm. Byrd's private life, but it is equally thrilling and as colorful as his exploring experiences."

★ ★ ★

YOU CAN MAKE a little bet on it—the girl Bing Crosby will be singing those Irving Berlin songs to in "Blue Skies" will be Ginger Rogers. The deal is all but inked, and gives you a rough idea of how far Paramount is going to make the Crosby-Berlin-Mark Sandrich picture the top musical of 1945. Ginger is willing (who wouldn't be?) because she has a yen to return to the song and dance field after a run of "straight" roles. She does not, however, owe Paramount another picture. Any deal made now would be on a brand-new basis.

★ ★ ★

KEENAN WYNN isn't kidding about "studying" to become a full-fledged producer. Operating under the technical title of assistant to Arthur Hornblow, he's moved into Hornblow's office and sits in on all story conferences, budget talks and casting problems. Considering he is also playing a role in "Week-end at the Waldorf" and another in "The Clock" at the same time, Keenan is certainly the busy kid.

★ ★ ★

SIDE LINES: Bruce Bennett, former Olympic athlete, is testing with Joan Crawford for the role of the husband in "Mildred Pearce," and he's scheduled for a test with Mervyn Le Roy for "The Robe" . . . The girls and boys may start cringing. The Hollywood Women's Press Club nominated candidates for the most "co-operative" and "unco-operative" stars of 1944 today, but the results won't be known for a month. Bet Bing gets out of the doghouse this time . . . Rochelle Hudson says there will not be a divorce between her and her Navy husband, despite rumors to the contrary . . . When Lt. Robert Lewis returns from active duty in the Pacific, Joyce Reynolds may have an important announcement to make to the heart columns . . . Jennifer Jones is just back from Palm Springs, where she went to see how her son, Michael, is coming along after his tussle with pneumonia.

RICHARD CRANE came out of the Brown Derby the other day and noticed a sailor gazing forlornly down the street. Dick went up to him and the gob said, "Can you let me have a penny?"

"What do you mean, a penny!" said Crane, diving into his pockets. 'What's the matter, kid, spend all your money on shore leave? Say, you can't eat on a penny. Here's $5."

"No," said the sailor, "I don't want it—"

"Of course, you'll take it," argued Dick, trying to push the bill into his hand.

"Honest, mister," the kid protested, 'I don't need it. I'm not hungry. I want to get weighed."

HOLLYWOOD IN SHORTS: With Jon Hall dropping charges against Tommy Dorsey, would you say this is one suit in which there are "no charges for altercations?" The Renny McEvoys (he was so good in "Dr. Wassell") welcomed their third bambino Sunday: hey, Van Johnson! Your girl friend, Kay Williams, was at Slapsy Maxie's with Bob Cobb, who should have been at his own bistro, the Brown Derby, if you want to hold it over his head; Tuffy and Liz Goff have gone north to their ranch to see how the rice crop is getting on; the apartment situation is getting so acute the day Director "Lucky" Humberstone finished work on the "Wonder Man," a pal offered to rent the parlor, bedroom and bath set at any price. Offers some interesting possibilities for ads; "Charming set for rent with delightful view of Sam Goldwyn. All modern conveniences, including hot water (at all times) and cold chorus girls"; Pat O'Brien writes Eloise from China that on his first day off USO entertaining he pitched a game of baseball with Gen. Chennault; Mrs. Frank Sinatra is taking driving lessons and today she drove right into Dick Powell's car parked in front of the Beverly Tropics; Ann Sothern and Bob Sterling hope it will be a boy this week; Gene Kelly reported to his draft board in New York on Monday; Lupe Velez with the recently divorced Johnny Mitchell (the actor, not the press agent) at the fights; that protege of Mickey Rooney's, Wally Cassell, has been borrowed from M-G-M for a good role in "G. I. Joe." That's all today.

La Niesen subbed for Mae West, who changed her mind about doing the program two hours before rehearsal time. Two reasons were given for her non-appearance. First it was said she decided to bow out when she learned that Gertie, who is also blonde and comehitherish albeit several decades younger, was to act as m. c. for the show; then a spokesman for Mae claimed it was merely because she couldn't see the script without her lorgnette and felt silly playing Juliet before an audience with a lorgnette.

Washington Scene

By George Dixon

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—I was telling you yesterday about the resolution of Rep. John M. Coffee (D.) of Washington to broadcast proceedings of Congress.

I outlined, in what I thought was a very informative way, the possibilities for this type of program in the House of Representatives. But I ran out of space before I got around to how it might work out in the Senate.

★ ★ ★

AS I SEE it, the Coffee proposal has even more potentialities in the Senate than it has in the House. It opens up a whole new field of endeavor.

Our Senators, as you know, are forever plugging the products of their home states — which is only right and fitting.

But the plugs, ordinarily, have a limited audience—those within reach of the Senator's shouts.

The Coffee plan will change all that.

Sen. Claude Pepper can debate the merits of Florida oranges against Sen. Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana and Sheridan Downey of California. Pepper is a great orange rooter, although he is personally allergic to citrus juice of any kind. It makes him break into a rash.

But he'll talk about oranges until the kumquats come home.

★ ★ ★

SENS. VANDENBERG and Ferguson of Michigan could put in this plug for the smelts caught in the Great Lakes:

"Try our smelts,
They're good for thinkers,
But never say
Our smelts are stinkers."

★ ★ ★

SEN. BILBO could do as much for Mississippi shrimp; Sen. Harry Byrd, for Virginia tobacco; Sen. Bob LaFollette, for Wisconsin cheese; Sen. Walter George, for Georgia peaches and Sen. Owen Brewster (Brewster the Booster) for Maine potatoes.

Senator Mead, of New York, can put in a plug for Little Flowers if he wants to—but I hope he won't.

★ ★ ★

REPRESENTATIVES of broadcasting companies here told me they would like to broadcast congressional proceedings "now and then." But they want to select what they shall broadcast.

In other words they do not wish to be forced into broadcasting everything Congress may wish broadcast—at least, not on the cuff. The Coffee plan, naturally, calls for the networks to carry the stuff free—as they do sustaining programs.

I can see many little tiffs and differences ahead because the networks and Congress may not always see eye to eye on what is important or entertaining. But we must always expect a measure of discord in this world of travail.

★ ★ ★

AS I SAID before, the show will be much better with television. Imagine the entrancing picture of Clare Luce weaving before a microphone warbling:

"Twice as much for your money, too,
The G. O. P. is the thing for you!"

My bitterest regret is that television will come too late to record many of the loveliest episodes in congressional history.

For instance, you will never be able to see Sen. Cotton Ed Smith of South Carolina, bank a carom shot off the cuspidor. The great goboon marksman is retiring from public life.

Then there was the time Sen. Carter Glass of Virginia made a speech opposing bonuses for soldiers of the last war. He thumped his desk so violently his hand spurted blood.

I am sure you can see what a great contribution to American life the Coffee scheme will be. It is up to you to demand it.

VICE-PRESIDENT WALLACE—he's the Vice-President we've got now—alighted from a train at Albany, N. Y., recently. He was not expecting any official welcome.

Nevertheless, bands began playing and mighty cheers arose from a huge multitude. Walking out of the station he found the streets lined with people.

Mr. Wallace was greatly touched.

NOT UNTIL later did he discover he had accidentally stepped into a homecoming celebration for Edward N. Scheiberling, recently-elected National Commander of the American Legion!

Avoid Straw-Like Hair

Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

A REFRESHING shower may be healthy and invigorating . . . but what it does to your hair is a beauty editor's business. Whether you expose your hair to a shower . . . or plaster it down with water to keep it in place . . . the damaging effect is the same. Water may be good for the system, but it is no tonic for the hair . . . the practically universal use of it as a hair slicker to the contrary notwithstanding.

Hair is hygroscopic and absorbs most of the water it is given. Consequently, when the water dries out . . . it tends to take with it the natural oils of the scalp . . . so necessary to keep htir soft and supple and vibrant. And, the more water you serve your scalp with which to plaster down your locks . . . the more H-two-O the hair demands . . . in almost a vicious cycle of replenishment.

That's why if you must dress your hair down . . . and most of us must . . . we should use a reconditioning bath of luxury for the hair . . . a cleansing lotion that not only revitalizes the scalp but keeps the hair fresh, fragrant, glossier and healthier.

HABITUAL USERS

Men, perhaps, are more habitual users of the water-dressing treatment than women, although there are plenty of gals who drip water over their locks to tighten ringlets and achieve that desired sleek effect. This grand hair tonic . . . to be used daily between shampoos . . . will offset the water-drying-out process and fluff the hair with smooth softness that at once is as you place it and as you like it.

For while you're dressing down your locks . . . you are cleansing and revitalizing the scalp and hair at the same time . . . like making a double catch with one throw. No sticky residue is left on the hair . . . for this tonic is quickly absorbed by the locks which respond meekly and mildly to its scientific grooming.

If you don't want to develop straw-like hair . . . brittle and dry and with split ends . . . you need the reconditioning ingredients of this famous hair tonic . . . product of one of the most noted hair-saving institutes in the country. It comes in two varieties . . . one for oily hair, the other for dry . . . giving vital service to both types of heads.

For the name of this sleek hair tonic for both men and women, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"THE VERY THOUGHT OF YOU" may have him on the qui vive if you are typical wartime sweethearts so nicely portrayed by Warner Stars Eleanor Parker and Dennis Morgan . . . but you'll be lovelier in his eyes . . . and he is yours . . . if your hair is as vibrantly healthy and radiantly smooth as these two heads which perfectly illustrate hair beauty.

SOUTH AMERICAN THEME of "tie at waist" and full gaucho sleeves was used to eye-appealing advantage in this stunning street outfit of black wool. The blouse is white mousseline de soie embroidered in black chenille dots . . . and the shirred high neckline is a becoming feminine accent. Paramount star Loretta Young can really go places in this costume.—R. M.

Macaroni, Noodles Make Many Tempting Dishes

By MARTHA LEE

TODAY'S MEAL PLANNER must include economical meals in her weekly list of prepared menus in order to balance her weekly budget properly. But in aiming at economy she cannot afford to sacrifice nutrition.

One of the greatest aids in this direction are the macaroni products, for they are inexpensive, easily prepared, and can be combined with many other foods for delectable and nutritious dishes. Any point-free food is a blessing much to be desired these days.

UPSIDE-DOWN CHICKEN AND NOODLES

1 pkg. egg noodles
1 to 2 cups cooked diced chicken
2 cups thick chicken gravy, white sauce or condensed mushroom soup
½ cup mushrooms, if desired

Combine the chicken, mushrooms and gravy, heat to boiling point. Place in baking dish or ring mold. Cook egg noodles in salted boiling water until tender. Drain. Combine with the two eggs, slightly beaten. Place this mixture on top of chicken in chosen baking dish. Bake at 350 deg. F. until noodles are set—about 15 minutes. Turn out upside-down on serving platter. If ring mold is used the center may be filled with a vegetable such as buttered peas.

MACARONI A LA GOLDENROD

1 8-oz. pkg. macaroni
1 can condensed tomato soup
2 eggs
2 to 4 tbsp. grated cheese
4 to 6 hard-cooked eggs

Cook the macaroni in boiling salted water until tender. Drain. Dilute the soup with ½ can of water or milk. Add cheese and the whites of the eggs, diced. Heat to boiling point. Combine with the macaroni. Serve at once topped with the egg yolks which have been pressed through a sieve. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Upside-Down Chicken and Noodles

ONE-DISH SPAGHETTI SUPPER

1 pkg. elbow spaghetti
½ lb. sliced bacon, cut small
½ cup chopped onion
1 cup chopped celery
¼ cup diced green pepper
¼ cup pimiento, diced
No. 2½ can tomatoes
Grated cheese, if desired
Salt and pepper to taste

In a large skillet fry the cut bacon until it is lightly browned. Add onion, celery, green pepper, pimiento and turn heat low. Cook until celery and onion are tender but not brown. Then add the tomatoes and stir well. On top sprinkle the elbow spaghetti. Place lid on frying pan and turn heat low or place in moderate oven and cook until spaghetti is tender—about 20 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

10-MINUTE MACARONI SUPPER

1 pkg. elbow macaroni
1 can condensed mushroom soup or tomato soup
1 can whole kernel corn
1 can tuna fish
Salt and pepper to taste

Cook the macaroni in salted boiling water until tender. Drain and mix with the flaked tuna fish and the can of corn. Dilute the mushroom or tomato soup with ½ cup water or milk. Heat to boiling point. Then mix well with the other ingredients and heat to serving temperature. Serve at once or keep warm in moderate oven until serving time. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

TABLE MANNERS HINT—Even a small youngster can be taught to eat properly. The little girl who is encouraged to break her bread or sandwich in smaller sections before eating will not later be embarrassed when eating a sandwich—whether a complicated club one requiring a knife and fork or a simple bread and jelly one easily picked up in the fingers.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Tuesday—The meeting at noon yesterday at Brooklyn College grew to such proportions that I had to speak from the balcony outside the president's office, with the students assembled out of doors on the campus below.

It is a charming campus, and I must say that that part of Brooklyn, with its detached houses and lawns and trees, struck me as being a very nice and almost suburban residential section.

I was happy that the sun was shining and that it was not bitterly cold. It seemed quite enough to ask those young people to stand for over an hour during these ceremonies held in commemoration of International Students' Day.

AT 5 O'CLOCK I had a small tea at my apartment for some of the young women who did volunteer work for Mrs. David Levy in the campaign. I think the experience has made many of them realize that they want to go on working along citizenship lines to assure the results which they fought for in the campaign.

The meeting of the committee for refugee education at Cooper Union in the evening was very well attended, and I got back to my apartment by 10 o'clock in time to spend half an hour with a gentleman who had been trying all day to see me.

Then I went to the broadcasting station, where at 11:15 I gave a five-minute summary over the air of what I had said at Cooper Union. Finally I made the midnight train for Washington.

I am only one day behind in the mail, but it looks as though there is a great deal of unfinished work piled up. I found the President looking very well, but a little depressed also by his accumulation of mail. Our daughter returned yesterday from seeing her elder son at his military school.

This afternoon I am seeing a number of people at half-hour intervals, but I hope this evening I shall be able to catch up with all accumulated work.

★ ★ ★

I HAVE AN APPEAL from the Camp Fire Girls to mention their difficulty in finding leaders. I imagine that the Girl Scouts, as well, suffer from the fact that women are very busy these days.

I have always been a great believer in these two groups, and have felt that women who gave their time so unselfishly were doing a fine piece of work.

Suits Trimmed With Fur

By BETTINA BEDWELL

SUITS that are trimmed with fur are luxury entries in winter styles. There are lots of them from the big-name designers. Some have all-fur jackets and cloth skirts. More have jackets that are trimmed with fur, but are made of cloth. When the fur is put on so it adds real warmth to a jacket, then the result is both attractive and practical.

Such a model is the one sketched by Miss Dulin. It is the kind of suit that could be worn for the grandest kind of daytime doings. It is a rich, warm beige in color, and has a fitted hip-length jacket and a slim skirt. The mink trimming is applied in a shoulder yoke, where you need extra warmth, the yoke being rounded like a capelet at the back and extending a bit over the tops of the sleeves.

A muff of the same fur goes with the suit and gives that extra-elegant touch.

4 Veteran Rail Men Promoted

Robert L. Pearson, vice president of the New Haven Railroad, today announced the appointment of four veterans of the company to important key posts in the organization.

Dean F. Willey

Dean F. Willey was named assistant general manager of the road in charge of the engineering, maintenance and mechanical departments; Philip H. Hatch was appointed general mechanical superintendent; Carl A. Mitchell, personnel assistant, and William P. Libby, Jr., office assistant to the vice-president.

Willey, Hatch and Libby all are graduates of Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Mitchell began railroading in 1896 as telegraph operator and agent for the Boston & Maine, joining the New Haven three years later.

Poetic Justice

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Nov. 15 (AP)—Charlie Granderson sought new lodgings after someone entered his room and stole his clothing.

At another lodging house the proprietor told him:

"The man who had this room is in jail for stealing a watch."

Charlie moved in and found his stolen clothing hanging in the jailed roomer's closet.

Alfred Drake Sparks Guild Show 'Sing Out, Sweet Land'

By PEGGY DOYLE
Drama

"Sing Out, Sweet Land!" The Theater Guild's new musical which promised to be another Yankee Doodle Dandy such as "Oklahoma," fails to go to town.

Caught at its second showing at the Colonial Theater last night, it proved to be a cavalcade of songs strung together by the wandering minstrelsy of the fugitive "Oklahoma" star, likeable, talented Alfred Drake. Instead of a book, Drake shoulders the entire job of weaving together this scattered pageantry of native folk and popular songs from Puritan New England times down to the present.

Excepting for such exciting numbers as "Speakeasy Night Club," "Five O'Clock Whistle" and one or two others, a static quality characterizes the production.

Charles Weidman and Doris Humphrey have created some brilliantly satiric dance numbers, based on the now incredibly grotesque Maxixe, Bunny Hug and Temptation Rag. Peter Hamilton, Irene Hawthorne and the assisting dancing ensemble superbly reproduce the Weidman-Humphrey dance designs.

Drake's fine baritone and his persuasive personality again lend distinction and charm to a Guild production. Another great artist is the guitar strumming tenor with a keen comedy sense, Burl Ives. Bibi Osterwald's Maxie, the Texas Guinan of the garish, razzle-dazzle speakeasy night club, is a highspot in a show that needs considerably more sparkle and comedy.

Saucy Alma Kaye, a really bewitching little beauty of 18, goes places as the Indian maiden, Mohee, and again as the flamboyant Frankie to Michael Fitzmaurice's rough, tough Johnny in the "Mississippi Boat" sequence.

The cast is a bluebook of talent and the show represents plenty of moolah . . . altogether too considerable an investment to gamble with on the current unstageworthy and un-Guildworthy state of affairs.

Before December 2, getaway night here, "Sing Out, Sweet Land!" paced and given a shot of adrenalin, should really sing from the heart as well as the tonsils.

NO MOMENT LIKE THIS—Gail Russell, as Cornelia Otis Skinner, in Paramount's "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," dances with the man of her dreams, James Brown. This contagious comedy moves from the Met to the Paramount and Fenway screens tomorrow.

Seek November Salvage Record

After topping the October record collections in its first two days, Boston's November scrap drive continued at a fast pace today.

Tabulation of the first two days' returns show householders and storekeepers in the first 10 wards of the city have produced 449,600 pounds of waste paper and 69,400 pounds of scrap tin.

Today, city trucks canvassed Wards 11 and 12 of Roxbury and Wards 13 and 14 of Dorchester. The campaign enters the home stretch tomorrow with collections in Wards 15, 16 and 17, of Dorchester, and Ward 18, comprising Hyde Park and parts of Roslindale and Mattapan. It winds up Friday with pickups in Ward 19, Jamaica Plain; Ward 20, West Roxbury and Roslindale; and Wards 21 and 22, Allston and Brighton.

The Watertown Salvage Committee announced today that the community will conduct an all-out waste paper campaign Sunday afternoon, and during the week of Nov. 20, will make tin can collections on every day but Thursday, Nov. 23, Thanksgiving Day.

Doctors Should Check 'Teen Age Grid Players

By JACK CONWAY

THE SIX DEATHS caused this season by football injuries emphasize the fact that 'teen age youngsters are subjected to greater risk than older and more experienced players.

Allan J. Shafer, Jr., 17-year-old Wisconsin quarterback, died following a game played last Saturday, while Lloyd Motes, 17 - year - old Georgia high school football player, died on Sunday from football injuries. Earlier in the season there were four other deaths of 'teen age players.

Max Baer

These deaths should be a warning to football coaches not to keep their players in the game when they show signs of being tired. Most injuries in sports occur when an athlete is tired. It does not take much of a smash to prove fatal to an exhausted football player, boxer or other athlete.

The danger of injury to 'teen age players is great this year in view of the fact many of them are playing on college teams.

Boys who in normal times would be playing for prep schools or on a freshman outfit are today headliners for colleges. In many cases they are opposed by older and more experienced players.

These youngsters possess amazing ability, and an abundance of competitive spirit. They wish to play through an entire game, but they should not be permitted to do so. With free substitutions, coaches can keep shifting their teams.

Hockey more than any other sport has proved the advantage of having fresh men in the lineup. At last night's hockey game between the Bruins and Blackhawks at the Garden there were frequent changes made in the lineup. This adds to the speed and effectiveness of a club, and also safeguards players from injuries.

★ ★ ★

Case of Boxing

IN BOXING, most men who have been killed have been exhausted at the time the fatal blow was struck. This is why Referee Arthur Donovan is so quick to stop heavyweight matches in New York when one of the boxers is in a helpless condition and has no chance to win.

There was the night when Max Baer, at the peak of his fighting form, turned Max Schmeling half way around with a savage right hand blow to the jaw. Schmeling had his back towards Max and, in a dazed condition, was looking out towards the crowd when Referee Donovan halted the bout.

Referee Lou Magnolia came to the rescue of Tommy Loughran when Jack Sharkey turned him around with a right hand belt to the jaw.

"Get me a chair," the groggy Loughran said to Magnolia, "I want some place to sit down at."

In both cases there might have been a fatality if another blow had been delivered.

In contrast to these exhibitions was the night at the Polo Grounds when Pancho Villa was permitted to batter Jimmy Wilde until the latter was knocked cold. At times when the gallant little Welshman got up off the canvas he did not have sufficient strength to raise his hands. The bout was not stopped as Wilde insisted before the contest that he should be allowed to fight to the finish.

I do not believe any boxer, football player, baseball star or other athlete has a right to set up his own rules. He should be compelled to protect his own body when he is hopelessly beaten.

Harvard Always Careful

HARVARD HAS always had one of the finest systems for protecting its athletes. The doctor has the final say as to whether a football player shall be allowed to play and whether he shall remain in the game. In the days of Harvard football might, I have seen Dr. Tommy Richards take many a star player out of the game because, in his judgment, the boy was not fit to carry on. No football victory is worth any boy risking permanent injury or the possible loss of his life.

I would like to see every high school, prep school and college in the country have better medical checks on its athletes.

The New England A. A. U. has done much along these lines. It has close medical checkups of all competing athletes, while it always has doctors in a position to render any aid required.

When the All-America bouts were held at the Garden with the co-operation of the New England A. A. U. and the Irish-American A. A., contestants were examined by competent doctors, while there were three doctors at the ringside to check on the condition of the young boxers.

In the postwar period, with many former service men competing in sports, medical checkups will be needed even more than they are today. Men subjected to the strain of combat will tire quickly, and they should be protected.

Typhoon Line Dazzles As Bruins Clip Hawks

By BILL GRIMES

Before the Bruins broke camp up in Quebec City, manager Art Ross climbed out on a limb and predicted that Frankie Mario, Ke nny Smith and Bill Cupolo, whom he christened the Typhoon line, would develop into a tremendous box office attraction.

Of course, it's too early to come out and state that the Typhoons have made the grade. Now, don't get me wrong. There isn't any question but that they are peace time major leaguers. They are "naturals." They are a smoother working combination than the Krauts were when they came into the N. H. L.

The Bruins, incidentally, bounced back into the win column last light by hanging a 7 to 5 defeat on the Chicago Blackhawks before a capacity gathering of 13,500 strictly cash customers.

The Typhoons put on a grand show last night. They picked up a total of eight points, one less than Capt. Bill Cowley's line, which is a trio of experienced veterans. Bill Cupolo contributed two goals to the Bruin cause, and assisted on Frankie Mario's goal. Little Kenny Smith figured in three goals and along with his tally, Marion was credited with an assist.

At the end of the first period, the score was one all, Cupolo, scoring for the Rossmen and Pete Horeck for the Hawks. During that chapter, the Bruins outplayed the Hawks, but Mike Karakas, the Chicago goal minder, came up with 11 saves, most of which were of the sensational variety.

The second period kept the fans on their feet, for the Bruins scored five times and the Hawks made three tallies.

Coach "Dit" Clapper was in the penalty box when the middle stanza got underway and the Hawks capitalized on their extra man power and scored in 35 seconds. Five minutes later, the Typhoons went into action and Frankie Mario knotted the count on a beautiful three-man attack with his flankmen Kenny Smith and Cupolo.

At 11:20, Capt. Bill Cowley took a well-timed pass from Pat Egan and the Bruins went into the lead for the second time. It looked like a walkaway when Cupolo scored his second goal of the evening at 12:33. But, one minute later, Pete Horeck counted and about a half minute after that tally, Lude Check came through with the equalizer and the scoreboard read Boston 4, Chicago 4.

With about two minutes to play, Cowley, Herbie Cain and Bill Jennings tore into the Hawks' zone and combined for the tie breaking marker, Cain doing the scoring. And, then, before the end of the period, Cain scored again, with Cowley getting another assist.

Jack Shewchuk picked up a point for starting the play.

After the hectic second period, the players were pretty well shot, so the final chapter produced only two goals, Jennings doing the honors for the Rossmen and "Buz" Brayshaw for the Hawks.

The Bruins are enjoying an off day today but they'll practice at the Arena tomorrow and Friday in preparation for their week end double header in Montreal and Detroit.

Les Canadiens, holders of the Stanley Cup, will play the Bruins next Tuesday night at the Boston Garden.

During the pre-game dinner, Manager Paul Thompson of the Blackhawks stated that he was building a new club, around a few veterans . . . He is satisfied that he has a squad of hustlers and expects his rookies to make their share of mistakes . . . He doesn't believe that Doug Bentley or Bryan Hextall, of Rangers have a chance of getting their clearance papers to enter the "States" . . . Cully Dahlstrom has a good paying position in Chicago and wouldn't even consider a top salary contract from the Hawks, while Art Wiebe is operating a bakery at an army camp and snowed under with business . . . Thompson selects Les Canadiens to repeat . . . He had Frankie McCool, the Maple Leaf goalie, and fears that the pressure will cause his ulcers to pop as they did during his try out with Chicago and Rangers . . . Young Harvey Bennett turned in another grand game in the Bruin nets . . . As was the case in Toronto, Bennett didn't get the protection from his outer defensemen . . . Asks 200,000-Seat Capital Stadium

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) —A giant national memorial stadium in Washington designed to attrack air-transported athletic teams from throughout the world was proposed in Congress today.

Rep. Weiss (D.) of Pennsylvania, a pro football official as well as a Congressman, introduced legislation to create a commission to survey sites and plan financing. He has a mind a plant to seat 200,000 spectators.

Cowley Shares Scoring Lead

When he contributed one goal and three assists during the process of knocking off the Chicago Blackhawks 7 to 5 last night at Boston Garden, Capt. Bill Cowley of the Boston Bruins stepped into a triple top tie for scoring honors in the N.H.L. with Sweeney Schriner and Gus Brodnar of the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The Bruin leader is rolling in his best form and many expect him to amass such a scoring lead, even in mid season, that the race in this department will be virtually over. This great play maker was away out front last season when he injured his shoulder and went on the shelf. Free from injuries Cowley should be the bird to watch this season.

The ten leaders:

	G.	A.	Pts.
Cowley, Boston	6	10	16
Schriner, Toronto	9	6	15
Bodnar, Toronto	8	11	19
Carr, Toronto	6	7	13
Howe, Detroit	4	9	13
Blake, Canadiens	4	7	11
Bruneteau, Detroit	4	2	6
Fraser, Chicago	3	3	6
Lach, Canadiens	3	3	6
Mahon, Detroit	3	3	6

Bruins Fans Salute Veterans!

Art Ross' Bruins gave a grand salute to wounded veterans at the Garden when they gave the entire receipts of their hockey game with the Blackhawks to the Disabled Veterans Fund of the American-Record-Sunday Advertiser. The $21,670.27 contribution will furnish comfort and cheer for wounded veterans in New England hospitals.

This all out war charity donation was made possible by Art Ross and the Bruins' board of directors, Lieut. Weston W. Adams, president of the Bruins, Lt. Col. Walter A. Brown, president of the Garden, Tom Kanaly, general manager and Denis W. Delaney, Collector of Internal Revenue. The Treasury Department, which is represented in Boston by Denis Delaney, agreed that all receipts could be donated to the Disabled Veterans' Fund free of taxes.

We thank everyone else who contributed to the success of the game, especially the 13,500 fans who paid for the tickets, and who in return witnessed a thrilling contest and aided a wonderful charity.—JACK CONWAY.

St. Clement's Eyes Somerville Throne

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Everybody will be at Dilboy Field Saturday afternoon to hail Somerville High as the returning heroes. Everybody will want to see just how the boys of Coach Tom Lynch operate. Everybody will be looking for a city championship for the high school—that is, everybody but the little band from St. Clement's which will be offering the opposition.

But Coach Jim Brannock of the Saints has other plans in store concerning the city title, and they're all wrapped up in a plucky little squad which is convinced that it can take an overconfident Somerville into camp.

A lot depends on co-captain Jim Fahey, 210-pound fullback. An All-Catholic League line-plunger last season, Fahey came out of his jinx game with Mission last Sunday with a bad shoulder bruise so that he has been unable to have any contact practice this week. His loss would deprive St. Clement's of half of its offensive threat—just when it's needed most with Malden Catholic coming up on Thanksgiving Day for the Catholic League crown.

FAHEY A REAL BIG COG

Fahey has been a big cog in St. Clement's big climb to a top place tie in the league standings. He hit his stride and took the team with him in the fourth game of the season as the Saints pummelled St. Patrick's of Stoneham (55-0), toppled Keith (16-6), pounded St. James of Haverhill (40-0) and then slammed Mission (33-7). Previously, St. Clement's had beaten Immaculate (20-13), St. Mary's of Waltham (7-0) and lost to Cathedral (0-7).

It's the Keith victory which has set the St. Clement's kids on fire. Somerville only topped Keith by a 20-6 count, so, putting stock in comparative scores, as St. Clement's squad will, they believe they have a swell chance to take over the title. And if Somerville takes the Maroon and Gold squad lightly, as it probably will, the Catholic Leaguers' chances will be so much greater.

Coach Brannock, taking over for John O'Connor at the start of the season, had little time to mould his club and as a result they fumbled around with his offensive for three weeks. Once they had mastered the single wing, he installed the T and the double wing so that the club will be able to throw all three against Somerville in Saturday's game.

BULLETIN

Fran Rooney, star seat back of the Somerville football team, will be out of the Thanksgiving game with Rindge following notification that he has been accepted for service in the Coast Guard. He will report for duty on Nov. 22.

His T operates behind the clever ball handling of sophomore Joe Regan who'll be feeding the plays to triple threat Bill Brady at left half, Bill Connolly, another soph, at right half, and Fahey at full.

Coach Brannock's line will be outweighed throughout but it will be a game group, ready to step up against any sort of opposition. Co-captain Roy Robitaille, 175 pounds, will be at center flanked by Dick Wise, 173, and Fran Small (and they aren't kidding) at 145 pounds. Bill Hagerty, 185, and Jack Cameron, 157, will be at the tackles with Jim Dwyer, 178, and Vin Monagle, 185, on the ends.

CHELSEA INVADES MELROSE

Coach Dave Gavin's Melrose High outfit will have its troubles continuing on its comeback trail with Chelsea slated for an invasion this week-end . . . the Red Raiders' Alden Murphy will be at a tackle, as usual, but probably far under par because of his leg injury . . . Chelsea's co-captain Nate Finklestein, generally rated All Scholastic, will bear plenty of watching on an end.

Pictures taken at two school football games have proven that officials aren't always right . . . movies of the Winchester-Reading game show that there was no offside on a pass that would have possibly won the game for Winchester . . . and a photo of the Belmont-Chelsea game indicates that Belmont put across a touchdown that would have meant a victory . . . it's all water under the dam, now. Even the ordinarily alert officials can miss them.

Weymouth bounced back into the sports spotlight against Dedham . . . and Coach Paul Sweeney's boys will continue to hold it against Brockton Saturday . . . Joe Coveney of Weymouth, after his defensive play last week, will be getting a great reception from the home fans.

Olympics Dazzle Eastern Loop

BALTIMORE, Nov. 15—Coach Hago Harrington and his triumphant Boston Olympics, crown holders of the Eastern League last season, are in town to continue their blitz over the local opposition in the form of the Baltimore Lions here tonight.

The Hub Pics are so good that local hockey fans now wonder if they are not in the wrong league. Some fans believe they qualify for a place in the National loop. Their play here the other night, when they turned back what was figured to be a powerful team 6 to 3 under the direction of the immortal Eddie Shore, has convinced Baltimore fans that the Olympics have such a powerful outfit that the Eastern race virtually will be over before it has fairly started. Last week they beat the New York Rovers and Philadelphia Eagles by the identical score 11 to 2.

Last night, however, the Pics fell before Washington, 7 to 4.

The Hub Pics depend a lot on their great starting line of Tommy Brennan, Russ Kopak and Joe Schmidt. This handsome trio, often referred to as the collarads, who should be on bus advertisements instead of on the ice, have set a scoring pace that has the entire Eastern League all agog.

Foe's Pilot Hits Pep Short Count

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (AP)—Tommy Dio, manager of Charles "Cabey" Lewis, asserted today his fighter had been given a "short count" in Hartford, Ct., last night when Lewis floored Featherweight Champion Willie Pep in the fourth round of their scheduled non-title 10-rounder.

"I claim," Dio said in a statement, "that the timekeeper rang the bell at the count of six with only two minutes of the round gone. I believe that if the round had gone the full three minutes Lewis would have scored a knockout. I am filing a protest with the Connecticut State Athletic Commission at their next meeting."

Pep went on to win a 10-round decision in what, in some respects, was his hardest fight since hitting the big time. It was the first time he had been knocked down since he became champion.

Eisenhower Appeal May Shift A-N Tilt

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (AP)—General Eisenhower's recent appeal for a highly successful sixth war loan drive may be a factor in bringing about a transfer of the Army-Navy football game to a big city stadium. Representative Weiss, (D.) of Pennsylvania said today he feels Eisenhower's appeal is one of the reasons why President Roosevelt is considering the advisability of shifting the game from Annapolis.

Mr. Roosevelt disclosed plans yesterday to talk with Secretary Stimson about the matter.

There never has been such a "natural" in the long and colorful series between the two service teams, Weiss said.

"Why, it would sell millions of dollars worth of bonds—perhaps a billion, if handled properly—and give the war loan drive the biggest boost we've ever had," he declared.

The game now is scheduled for Annapolis, Dec. 2, with attendance limited largely to Annapolis people—a maximum crowd of only approximately 20,000. The explanation has been: To hold down on unessential travel.

Weiss said that he "has a hunch" that Baltimore will get the contest, if it is transferred from Annapolis. He estimated that 70,000 spectators can be crowded into the Baltimore studium for such an attraction.

The Naval Academy, as the home team, will probably have the choice of the site, if the game is shifted, Weiss said he had learned. He added that the academy thinks that Baltimore is as far away from Annapolis as the team should go for this game.

Drive On for Service Hospital Golf

CHICAGO, Nov. 15 (AP)—A golf course for every military hospital in the United States is the aim of the Professional Golfers Association.

Impressed with a report on the value of the sport in reconditioning of hospitalized servicemen, the PGA unanimously approved the plan and dedicated its 28th annual convention to the project which will extend throughout the nation.

The association already has participated in construction of a number of courses at government hospitals, and it was the success of these enterprises that prompted PGA's approval of the project at closing sessions of its convention yesterday.

Frank Sprogell, PGA secretary, said: "We plan to construct putting courses, approach and putting courses, and nine-hole courses, depending on the available space."

Yanks' Magee To Face Tigers

Jim Magee, the Yanks freshman "rookie of the year," will be back in action against the Brooklyn Tigers Sunday afternoon when the Kopf outfit winds up its home season at Fenway Park in what figures to be one of the toughest ball games of the year.

The return of Magee to center will strengthen the Yanks enough so that they now stand an excellent chance of upsetting the Tigers once again. In fact, many of the players feel that if the bruising Philadelphia kid had been available last Sunday, the Yanks would upset the Bears.

Oddly enough, Magee looked so green during pre-season drills that the Yanks hurriedly made deals to secure Walter Dubzinski from the Giants and bring Ed Korisky out of retirement, but once Magee got a touch of action in league competition, there was no stopping him.

In every game he has played this year, he has been a "killer" on defense and opposing coaches have singled him out time and again as a standout. Because of a bad knee, he saw no action last Sunday but he has been working out since and claims that he is as good as ever.

With Magee backing up one side of the line and 18-year-old Kenny Steinmetz of Providence backing up the other side, the Yanks have a pair of 'baby" defenders, but what they lack in age and experience they make up in vicious tackling and 'fire'. In time, this duo will rank with the greatest in the game.

Steinmetz, too, has been handicapped by injuries but he is now OK, as are Keith Ranspot, Scotty Gudmundson and Bob Cafego. Actually, the Yanks are in perfect condition for the first time in over a month, and that means that Brooklyn had better be ready.
